IRRIGATION PROJECTS IN ALBERTA ARE ENUMERATED

Detailed figures on the Lethbridge Northern Project Are Given

Edmonton, March 8.—Irrigation projects in Alberta, embracing a possible total of 72,000 irrigable acres, were under operation, under construction, or in prospect, during the year 1921, according to the annual report of the provincial irrigation council, tabled in the legislature by Hon. Vernon Smith, minister of railways and telephones, on Wednesday afternoon.

DETAILS OF PROJECTS

The report, signed by L. C. Charlesworth, chairman of the irrigation council, gives the following details of projects:

Taber, 11,000 irrigable acres, bonded for $122,000; cost per acre of $11.00.

Lethbridge Northern, 105,000 irrigable acres, bonded for $1,050,000; estimated cost per acre, $10.00.

United, 25,000 irrigable acres, bonded for $250,000; estimated cost per acre, $10.00.

Projected, Lethbridge Southern, 105,000 irrigable acres, bonded for $1,050,000; estimated cost per acre, $10.00.

Projected, Lethbridge Northern, 105,000 irrigable acres, bonded for $1,050,000; estimated cost per acre, $10.00.

MEDICINE HAT DISTRICT

Medicine Hat Southern, 5,000 irrigable acres; not yet bonded; estimated cost per acre, $11.27.

Projected, Lethbridge Southern, 105,000 irrigable acres, bonded for $1,050,000; estimated cost per acre, $10.00.

Projected, Lethbridge Northern, 105,000 irrigable acres, bonded for $1,050,000; estimated cost per acre, $10.00.

WILLIAM PEARCE PROJECT

In addition to these projects, there is also the William Pearce project, involving the North Saskatchewan scheme, and the area of irrigable acreage for which the area of irrigable acreage is not calculated in the report.

With reference to the Taber project, now under operation, the report says: "This district is now in its second year of operation and is in a very satisfactory condition."

Practically the whole district was irrigated last season, either during the cropping season or by fall irrigation. The cost of water for irrigation for this district for the year 1921, which was the first year of operation, is estimated at the same rate will be necessary for 1922. The average holding of irrigable land in this district is 170 acres.

GOES INTO DETAIL

The report goes into considerable detail on the constructional cost of the Lethbridge Northern project, now under construction, and the cost of operation work on the main canal, awarded to Grant, Smith and Company, of Calgary, the lowest bidder, the report says active work was begun in the fall of 1921, and the construction of the canal, and continued steadily until the middle of November, when the water was turned on to the sub-contractors to shut down for the winter.

The excavating of the waterway, which is still progressing, and probably will continue all winter, is being carried on by the contractors, who are handling the material in the winter. It is estimated that the excavation in this cut is about 30 per cent. of the total excavation, and will be completed within ten months.

The whole contract for canal excavation is about 115 ft. in length, and the completion of the work within the time specified, being of vital importance to the farmers of this district, who might suffer severe loss through lack of water, the contractors are being heavily penalized for non-completion.

TIMBER TREESTLE WORK

The report also states that the masonry and timber treestle work in the main canal is about 60 per cent. completed. Of contracts for steel bridge work and metal flumes, the report says: "The main canal comes out of the Old Man river, on the east side, in the Peigan Indian reserve, and flows on that side for about 3.4 miles, where it crosses the Old Man river in a semi-circular steel flume 4 ft. 6 in. in diameter and over half a mile long. When this structure is completed, it will be one of the largest flumes in existence. This flume is carried across the main channel, 30 ft. above high water, on a concrete pier of concrete piers. For the remaining distance it is carried on a steel and wooden trestle. About 12 miles north of this point, the main canal crosses Willow Creek on a flume of similar construction."

NO REPORT DELIVERED

The report states the contract for erection was given to the Dominion Bridge Company, at the lowest figure, $110,336, and that the material was delivered by the Pacific Sheet Metal Company, to which the contract for the material was given. The contract for the concrete construction on the Old Man River crossing was let to A. C. McLean & Co. for $364,619, and is well under way.

About half the embankment at the Peigan crossing was completed on December 31st last there had been drawn from the trustees accounts $1,672,765.37, of which $1,000,000 was for interest payments, and $372,765.37 was for principal payments. The balance at the end of the year was $672,765.37.

The auditor's report shows the expenditure of the district up to December 31st to be $1,583,719.12, made up of $1,000,000 for interest charges, $1,233,012.56 for construction, and $149,246.72 engineering charges.

The chance rescue was effected by a team which overtook the Simard and his party, and after Simard had left it, the occupants were both frightened and shivering. Each team quickly advanced to one side and all arrived safely at Rice River after a long and arduous journey.

JOHN R. COWELL IS RECEIVING CONGRATULATIONS

The veteran clerk of Alberta's legislative assembly, John R. Cowell, was receiving congratulations from all sides Monday last week on the occasion of his seventy-third birthday. Mr. Cowell is not only a parliamentarian of long and distinguished career in the old Canadian House of Commons, but also a member of the distinction of being the first employee of the province of Alberta, he was one of the first to be employed immediately after the formation of the province in 1905. Since that time he has carried on his duties as clerk at every session of the legislature with special ability, and during the business of the new legislature with almost every member on the administration side of the house suspended in parliamentary work.

THE OWLS IN THE ATTIC

A California gentleman from the city purchased a big country home that had been vacant several years. After spending a large sum of money on improvements, he moved in, to find that the rats made his night hideous and the gophers destroyed his lawn garden and trees as soon as they were planted. To add to his discomfort, a half-dozen barn owls chose his house for a nesting place. They flapped, stamped, fought and hissed on the roof, and in the attic, while the rats increased in numbers, scurried, squealed, and fought in his bedroom and kitchen. One night the exasperated man went out with his gun to fire at an object in the night sky, and with a dull thud a heavy body fell on the veranda roof.

When morning came, he climbed into the attic to find an open window leading out to the veranda, where he found the big owl had killed, but on the floor under the rafters of the attic, another blundered his big eyes to see what danger was near. She fell on her nest with two white eggs and the bird did not notice the man so much as the materials of the nest, but bits of fur and bones of his enemy, the rat.

The man with his gun of dried rat skins and bones. He now understood and stroked the bird, and she was affectionately. The night a half-dozen owls celebrated for hours, flapping, hissing and stamping on the roof, and the disturbed sleeper only smiled. He was glad his friends were having a good time.

After another week the noises of the house ceased. Not a rat or a mouse was to be seen. The man returned to the attic one evening to find the mother owl guarding two tiny little white birds, who were getting down with hopped beaks and tiny talons resembling those of the big fellow he had killed. She showed him two of two tiny white monkeys huddled in a corner for warmth.

He smiled out his lips to watch. Notably an owl friend entered with supper for the little family. The meal was big supper.

The man watched an hour while owl friends brought into the attic six gophers, a rat, and seven mice. Now the two little owls have grown up, and the owner smiles and wishes among the three or four really great achievements in statesmanship during the last generation.

LIBERAL GOVERNMENT SWORN IN

Hon. R. Lemieux, Elected Speaker

Ottawa, March 8.—The first session of the fourth parliament of Canada opened today with the swearing in of members and the signing of the roll. On the first item of business of the commons, the election of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, member for Cheneau, as speaker, the government was sworn to back by the members of the opposition, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen.

The government, said Mr. Meighen, had taken into itself the functions of parliament. It was the right of parliament, and not of the government or the prime minister, to say who should be the speaker. Yet, on the day the new cabinet was announced, the premier had also announced that Hon. Mr. Lemieux would be the speaker of the house.

Mr. Meighen agreed with all that the prime minister had said with regard to the qualifications of Mr. Lemieux for the position of speaker.

The leader of the opposition also agreed that the government for departing from the custom of promoting the deputy speaker to the rank of the speaker. This practice had been followed for years past, but the present government had decided to depart from it, despite the fact that George Bovin, member for Sherbrooke, had all the qualifications necessary, and in addition had served with such satisfaction as deputy speaker that the speaker's rank would have given him ample satisfaction.

WELL QUALIFIED

The prime minister and Hon. T. A. C. Meighen, leader of the Progressives, in a voiced appreciation of Mr. Lemieux in respect to his lengthy parliamentary career, his qualifications for the position of speaker, Mr. C. Meighen expressed his confidence in the speaker, and said it would be his pleasure to serve the house.

The report as far as possible, by Right Hon. Mr. Meighen in referring to Mr. C. Meighen and his followers.

Before adjournment, Mr. Meighen had received a copy of the report of the conference of premiers of the empire, held in London. The report would expect him to make a statement, but the communication he had received was marked "secret."

He asked that the premier be secure from the prime minister of Great Britain the liberty of reference to the report, then returned for the transfer of fishery rights to the province of Quebec.

MEMBERS SWORN IN

The members of the commons were sworn in at eleven o'clock this morning, and at three o'clock they were sworn in to the commons to meet the deputy speaker. There, they were informed that his excellency would expect him to make a statement, but the communication he had received was marked "secret."

He asked that the premier be secure from the prime minister of Great Britain the liberty of reference to the report, then returned for the transfer of fishery rights to the province of Quebec.

ACCIDENTS TAKE A GREATER TOLL THAN REAL WAR

New York, March 8.—During the 18 months that United States troops were engaged in the war overseas, 48,000 soldiers lost their lives on the battlefield. In exactly the same period, according to the New York Herald, 48,000 persons, whom 48,000 were children, were killed by automobiles on United States highways.

HERO OF VINNY PASSES

Major-General Sir David Watson, former G.O.C. of the 4th Canadian Division in France, died Saturday, February 18th, after a paralytic stroke. General Watson was one of the first Canadians at Valcartier, because he was there before the government bought the land for that great training camp; in fact, it was he who took General Sir Sam Hughes down there and urged him to acquire the land for what was in a few days transferred from a veritable "Sleepy Hollow" into one of the finest military camps in the world.

Under General Watson, the 4th Brigade earned immortal fame. It captured and held Regina Trench after weeks of bloody struggling at the Somme. On April 12, in a blinding snowstorm, they attacked and captured the key position to Vimy Ridge. For services in the war, Sir David Watson was made K.C.B., following the key position to Vimy Ridge. For services in the war, Sir David Watson was made Commander of the Legion of Honour of France; he held the Croix de Guerre of France and Belgium, and also the Order of Leopold by King Albert. He held the long service medal before the war.

THOSE WHO CAN'T SEE

(The Banker-Farmer)
"You can't tell me anything about farming. I have been at it for thirty years, and I ought to know." How many times have you heard some farmer relieve himself of the responsibility of taking some forward step by making just that remark? And upon further reflection, just what kind of a farmer is he? Is it not a fact that the farmer who pleads guilty to knowing all there is about the agricultural and livestock industry is generally the fellow who lives in a shack, has a few acres of land, and is not very successful at that? One would think that the man who is in possession of such wealth of information, if he remained on the farm, would be surrounded by all the comforts and luxuries of life and own broad acres of fertile land yielding abundantly of all crops indigenous to the section in which he lives. Such a man should be in demand, on any salary he might name, to act in an advisory capacity for the government, or for the many wealthy corporations who are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars in promoting the development of the country through efforts tending to increase prosperity in the rural districts.

A ROMANCE OF BIRD LIFE

(The Ottawa Citizen)
When one day, several years ago, a pair of wild geese halted on their way north of a small farm in Essex County, Ontario, the farmer did not seize his gun, rush out and chase away at his rare and handsome visitors, but watched them, gained their confidence and encouraged them to call again. The response to this unusual treatment at the hands of man was remarkable. By means of wild goose language, strange to which we overhear as they fly high overhead on unexpected nights in spring and autumn, the birds who had received protection and kindness instead of the customary hostile reception through the force of a rifle, told their brothers and sisters of the sanctuary they had found. Next season the number of callers multiplied; the next they multiplied again, until now thousands call every year, and the farmer has to spend hundreds of dollars in boarding his feathered guests during their semi-annual visits.
The farmer in this story is Jack Miner. The fame of this bird sanctuary has spread, until today it is the mecca of innumerable sightseers who go to witness the scenes on the farm when the geese pause in their long flight and pay Jack a neighborly visit. The story of the geese and Jack Miner is one of the romances of wild life. And it will prove that there is much more fun in watching the ways of our charming feathered visitors than in hunting and killing them. What a lively, delightful, entrancing thing a wild bird is. What a sad and tragic thing is a limp and lifeless one.

CHIEF ANDERSON REPLIES TO MR. FORHAN

March 11th, 1922.

To the Editor of The News.
Dear Sir,
I have never yet been given to airing my grievances through the medium of the newspapers; but I am now in the position to the satisfaction of the city of Red Deer, answer the ill-advised letter of Mr. O. M. Forhan which appeared in the Advocate on March 10th.

I will take his letter just as it is in print.

(1) He tells the public that the matter of trying to get me is absolutely untrue. Now just let us see how far my assertions are incorrect. Between the 15th of September, 1921, when Mr. Forhan's place was raised (d) until October 6th, when the case was finally disposed of, Mr. Forhan tried every scheme imaginable to get me to fall into a trap. A person by the name of John Wagner was sent to interview me with the hope that he (Mr. Forhan) would be successful in proving that I could be bribed. This person did offer me one hundred dollars in cash, and told me that he was acting for Mr. Forhan. I refused to be so easily taken in. I told Mr. Forhan that I was not for sale, and that I was not for sale.

Between the 15th of September, 1921, when Mr. Forhan's place was raised (d) until October 6th, when the case was finally disposed of, Mr. Forhan tried every scheme imaginable to get me to fall into a trap. A person by the name of John Wagner was sent to interview me with the hope that he (Mr. Forhan) would be successful in proving that I could be bribed. This person did offer me one hundred dollars in cash, and told me that he was acting for Mr. Forhan. I refused to be so easily taken in. RED DEER PRESBYTERY

The Presbytery of Red Deer held its annual meeting last Thursday and Friday in Bowden, a full attendance of members being present. Rev. J. C. Herblin, of Penhold, was elected Moderator for the ensuing year. Most interesting reports were given from the different fields as the members gathered about the supper table, and so generously by the ladies of the Bowden Church. The resignation of the Rev. J. S. Patterson, of Three Hills, was accepted with regret.

Mr. Patterson has found the strain of the work too heavy and will go to the coast for a change. The following Commissioners were appointed to attend the General Assembly at Winnipeg in June: Rev. P. Fisher and J. S. Meak, also Messrs. McIntosh, of Three Hills, and Hopworth, Red Deer. Presbytery expressed its gratification at the interest and progress of the work at Sylvan Lake and Rocky Mountain House and forwarded with approval applications for help from the Church and Manse Board to build churches in these places. Mr. Brown goes east next week to attend the annual meeting of the Home Mission Board in Toronto, where arrangements will be made to supply the mission fields all over western Canada during the summer months.

The vendors are informed that the land is situated about three miles from the city of Red Deer, on the main travelled road, the land property is all fenced and there is located on it a good house, barn, stable, and a frame shed and granary.

The vendors are further informed that there are from thirty acres of cultivated land, the soil is good quality black loam.

The property will be offered for sale subject to a reserved bid which will be made known at the time of sale.

Terms of payment: Ten cent to the plaintiff's solicitor at the time of sale; the balance to be paid into court within sixty days without interest. The sale is subject to the standing conditions of the court. Further particulars may be had from Payne & Graham, Barristers, Red Deer, Alberta.

E. S. HOGG,
Clerk of the Court.

(4) He says he knows nothing of giving him a chance. I have been a witness who can testify that not only on one occasion did I tell him to be a good citizen, but I told him to be a good citizen. I am very sorry he mentions pool rooms, and the G.W.V.A. They had no right to be in the pool room, and he was the only one punished. Notice the dates—the one prosecution for pool room was in July, and Mr. Forhan was prosecuted in October.

Such rubbish he speaks of—that he has the right to suppose that I prosecuted him because he advocated the police force to be reduced to one. I never saw anything of the proposal until January this year, and he was prosecuted last October.

Now I have no desire to go further into detail. But just one instance, then I am through. On or about the 1st of this month Mr. Forhan was asked to come to my office; this was done by Constable Muir at my instigation.

Now I might say Constable Muir was present when the following conversation took place. I advised Mr. Forhan that it had come to my notice that he was again violating the liquor law, and I told him that it would be to his interest to stop the sale of certain concoctions made by him at the drug store. He admitted the offence, and added the words, "If an idiot you are giving me this opportunity. I must say you are fair. I wish you had given me such an opportunity instead of prosecuting me last fall. I know who told you about my selling liquor this time. Your informant is from a man who bought a bottle from me. To this I made no reply."

Now, I ask any right-thinking individual if anyone could go further in his attempt to do what was right by him.

These are facts, and I am prepared to submit them before anyone that Mr. Forhan may suggest, seeing that he did not have the opportunity of defending himself at the citizens' meeting.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space in your very valuable paper. Yours very truly,

CHAS. ANDERSON,
Chief of Police

NEWS CUP WINNERS ENTERTAINED BY LIEUT. HANNEN

No. 14 Platoon and invited guests
Entertained Royally by Popular
Platoon Commander.

Lieut. D. L. Hannen, M.M., entertained the members of his platoon and a number of invited guests to a delightful dinner in the Alexandra Hall on Thursday evening last. This is the platoon—No. 14—that won the News Cup in the recent inspection of "D" Co. by Gen. Bell, and the cup had an honored place on the table.

The catering was excellent, and reflected great credit on the Ladies' Hospital Aid, who had the arrangements in hand. This organization is making a reputation for itself for serving classy meals.

Following is the list of N.C.O.s and men in Lieut. Hannen's platoon:

Sgt. H. E. Haste, Sgt. D. Bell, Sgt. H. Cotton, Cpl. W. Stewart, Cpl. W. Egan, Cpl. J. T. Bagin, Cpl. C. Row, Cpl. T. Edie, Cpl. C. Row, Cpl. C. S. Wilson, and Ptes. R. S. Comfort, F. G. Hest, F. Macdonald, C.M.S. E. Caswell, Sgt. E. England, Sgt. R. Rivers, Sgt. D. O. Parker, Pte. H. F. Kenny, representing donors of the cup.

Lieut. Hannen proposed the toast of "The King," which was received heartily. The Lieut. then handed over the duties of chairman to Major Dr. W. J. Macdonald, who presided and sang a couple of songs.

Major Briscoe proposed the toast to the "Donors of the News Cup," which had added very materially to the interest of the men in the recent inspection. He expressed his appreciation of the help which Mr. Caswell and The News had given to the platoon.

H. F. Kenny responded. He congratulated the Ladies' Hospital Aid on the splendid dinner they had served and No. 14 Platoon on winning the cup. The News had been glad to do what it could to encourage the militia. Mr. Caswell had been a member of one of the earliest rifle associations in this province, and had always taken a keen interest in organizations for the encouragement of loyalty and good citizenship. The News could be depended upon to do its part in the future as in the past.

H. J. Cotton, president of the G.W.A., made a few remarks, expressing the willingness of his organization to accept the award. He congratulated No. 14 Platoon and expressed his regret that Lieut. Hannen contemplated leaving Red Deer. The G.W.A. is glad to encourage the militia work, and he thanked Major Briscoe for the accommodation provided in the Armories for the G.W.A.

"THE LESSON OF THE BRISCOLLES"

L. Dear Brethren and Sisters. Our lesson for tonight will be taken from the 31st Chapter, and the 14th Verse, of the apocryphal book of the Wise Men of the Briscollles. It states here that these wise men were men of wonder, and even more so, they were at all times prepared, for we knoweth each other.

Now, Brethren, one of the chiefs of the wise men of the Briscollles, who was given unto him two golden crowns, which bore heavily upon his shoulders, and swagereath much before men. Now, Brethren, this chief of the Briscollles took it into his head to send to a larger land than this for the High Priest of the Briscollles.

2. Brethren, it came to pass that on the night of the 22nd day of February, 1922, there arieth much excitement in the land. There were the sounding of beautiful golden trumpets, played by the smallest of the Briscollles, to the other. The clariens called, I fear our chief is in need of us. This chief, and the people came from far and near to spread unending praise upon the heads of the Briscollles. Then these wise men gathered together in the Palace of the chief Briscollle. Hundreds of them stood as one man as though carved in marble. Then the High Priest entered the Palace of the Briscollles, and he walked in front and behind the wise men of the Briscollles. Then the Great Chief said unto him that glittereth much before men: Take ye your wise men and, march them around the palace that I may judge their good work before men. This he did. Then came many noise from among the Briscollles of the Briscollles. The people who had gathered together to watch these men became very nervous at the sounds, and the wise men became tired and cross.

Then came snarling, and snarling of teeth, and spitting of fire from their mouths. But the man who stood before them, he who was given unto him a stripe upon each arm, said unto them: Brethren, stop ye your noise, or we shall not be able to hear each other, and silence reigned once more in the Palace of the Briscollles.

3. One of the High Priests stammered out in front of the wise man, saying: Come ye forth, the man who is mentioned in the 14th verse, and who was gifted with the stars which he was a great believer in stars, come, and stand from my hand all this beautiful silver-cup. He then did this, swagereath much. This man of the two golden stars turned to the wise men of the Briscollles, saying unto them: We have won the night, the night of all nights. Ye shall drink from the waters that flow from the stream of the Waskasoo through the valley of Red Deer into the duplex of the river below. Then we shall feast, which they did, and it came to pass that on the evening of the 15th day of March, 1922, they feasted of turkey and many other good things, which the wise men of the Briscollles will forever bear in mind.

4. I will continue my lesson of the Briscollles at the next annual inspection.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Next Sunday being the first of the lent, I would like to ask all the members of the parish to meet in the ves-

ty and bring as many three dollar bills as possible, as I leave on the early morning train.

Next Monday, the Chief of the Briscollles will give a very interesting lecture in the Palace. The subject will be: "Things don't alter, they stay as they are."

Brother, I thank you.

Written and produced by Pte. Jack Marshall, M.M., for the dinner given for 14th Platoon of the 51st Bn., by Lieut. D. L. Hannen, D.C.M., M.M.

In proposing the toast of "The Local Unit," Major Lister referred to the progress that had been made in their organization during the past year. He anticipated the realization of The News Cup as a compliment to the militia as a whole, just as much as it was a member of "D" Co. It is necessary to maintain interest in the militia work. Major G. G. Briscoe was at a loss to give vent to his feelings. Under the big blue banner, a letter containing the resignation of Lieut. Hannen, which he had found news, he had been told of the progress of his studies, and the fact that he intends to leave for McGill University.

Major Briscoe congratulated No. 14 Platoon on winning the cup, but reminded them that they were only a narrow margin. There were only a few points between the 4th platoon, which had won the trophy, and the 14th platoon, which had won the trophy of the Horn Hill boys to D. Co., and hoped they would soon have their own trophy.

Further competition in the spirit of friendly rivalry would be brought out by the trophy donated by the Central Alberta Horse. This trophy is open to the artillery and infantry. It is intended to see competition in the rifle range to be ready for operations as soon as spring opens. The trophy is to be awarded to the unit which has the best record in the range. Major G. G. Briscoe was at a loss to give vent to his feelings. Under the big blue banner, a letter containing the resignation of Lieut. Hannen, which he had found news, he had been told of the progress of his studies, and the fact that he intends to leave for McGill University.

Out of an appropriation of $1500 for the 1st Alta. Regt. about $1400 had come to "D" Co., which spoke well for the interest of the militia. The days would be arranged with the artillery this year, and Gen. Bell was expecting it if the Company could have to have 4 or 5 days' camp here or in Calgary during the summer. The N.C.O.s have been invited to the 1st Alta. Regt. has "gone to Ottawa, and will do all he can there to push the authority for Red Deer unit battalion.

Sergeant Haste proposed the toast to the militia in a few well-chosen words. Lieut. Crosby, in reply, protested against the treatment they had received. He said that the militia had been treated with a period of inactivity was liable to end them all to the hospital for the next three weeks. He was thankful for the meal and a very pleasant evening, and congratulated No. 14 Platoon, which would probably be his last night in Red Deer.

Lieut. P. W. Smith would rather see No. 14 have the cup than any other except No. 15, which would be right after it next year. He proposed the toast of the "Host of the Evening," the company sang "For he's a jolly good fellow" as they drank the toast.

Lieut. Hannen spoke feelingly and earnestly. He declared that the glory didn't belong to the platoon officer; any officer who takes the glory to himself for the achievement of his unit is unworthy. His memory went back to the pleasant times he had had with his men, over-zealous and to those who had been left behind. Those who had come through the war had much to be thankful for.

The men in his platoon had been there for a long time, and he was proud of them. When he was back in McGill University next year, he hoped to hear that the platoon had maintained its record in his absence and were still holders of the cup.

Lieut. Hannen thanked the Ladies' Hospital Aid for the catering. He paid a tribute to the mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts that had worked for the men who were over-zealous. His heart overflowed with gratitude to the women folks, particularly for the comforts and letters of cheer. He had great respect for their noble services.

Lieut. Hannen proposed a toast to the Ladies' Hospital Aid. Mrs. Malcolm, President, responded. A few others had asked to help the Hospital Aid, and they had been pleased to accept their offer. It was a work of love, and if the men accepted it he and the ladies would be well repaid. She declared that her chief joy in life was found in doing something for others.

The chairman expressed appreciation for the voluntary work of the orchestra, Eugene Murphy, Donald Murphy and George; also to Cpl. J. T. Bagin, the pianist of the evening. The singing of God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.

Mr. Grimmon was also instructed to attend the University Short Course at the time of the convention at the expense of the local, and report on same at the next meeting. This ought to induce a good turnout. Meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month.

Re the U.F.A. paper, The secretary was instructed to mail some to members respectively as soon as received. The Secretary was instructed to order fourteen U.F.A. calendars to all orders taken at the meeting.

The price was set for the paper, which was carried over at 50 cents per package, and Mr. Duffield kindly consented to distribute same from his business quarters at Sylvan Lake.

A membership drive was organized for the district, and of those eligible for membership, also members in arrears are requested to be on the lookout for the canvassers and to meet them with a good broad smile.

The ladies who held their meeting in a separate room, then invaded with a good light lunch, and informed the meeting that preparations were completed for holding the chicken supper. The date was accordingly set for Wednesday, March 16, and the supper will be served from 5 till 8 o'clock, or as long as anyone is hungry. H. W. Wood and Mrs. M. L. Sears will be speakers of the evening, after which cards and dancing will be indulged in. A light lunch will be served free at midnight. THE FARM MOTHER

A few weeks ago we told the story of a farm mother who had been carrying water from the well for 50 years. She had been doing so since she was a child, and she was now 80 years old. She had been doing so since she was a child, and she was now 80 years old.

Many other farm women are carrying water at half a cent a mile. Many are doing so at a cent a mile, and some are doing so at a cent a mile. They are carrying water at half a cent a mile, and some are doing so at a cent a mile.

It is time to take old grain-crades and one-horse-plow methods out of the evening, after which cards and dancing will be indulged in. A light lunch will be served free at midnight. The proceeds will be divided between the Local U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. organizations. It might be well to mention that fish will be served to those who wish it. So everybody come. No. It isn't so much a question of money. It is a question of thoughtfulness.

"Lay Flat" Poultry Netting is built on the same principle as a farm fence. It has continuous parallel wires. It is made over a form, making each wire the same length and tension. This gives a perfect fabric; all the meshes are of uniform size and length. There is no variation whatever. The hinge joints at points of intersection is a splendid feature. The netting is strong, stiff and straight, and when unrolled lays perfectly flat. "Lay Flat" Poultry Fence requires less posts. The tighter the wire is stretched, the straighter and better it looks.

FIREMEN TAKE BIG CHANCES
WHEN ARSENAL CATCHES FIRE

Quebec, March 2.—Firemen who last night fought the blaze which destroyed the inspection branch of the cartridge factory of the British Ordnance, one million rounds of ammunition, took their lives in their hands. Cartridges exploded constantly, and bullets flew in all directions. One of the flying bullets, struck Adjutant Chief Jacob on the bridge of his nose, but the wound was not serious.

The members of the Royal 22nd Airborne Battalion, quartered here, were ordered out, and every precaution was taken to fight the outbreak.

When the news of the fire spread through upper town, there was considerable alarm felt, as it was generally known that there was a large quantity of high explosives in the factory.

BUILT

The construction of the big new bridge across the Red Deer River is well advanced. The bridge is being built by the city of Calgary, and the city engineer, Mr. J. H. Hedmark, left on Monday for their next contract.

There is still a small amount of grading to be done on the approaches to the structure on both sides of the river, and it cannot be opened for traffic till this is completed in these places.

It will be up to the Board of Trade and other bodies to arrange for a formal opening of such an important structure, and a big crowd is expected to spring. Possibly this could be arranged for the occasion when the Premier and members of his Cabinet are to be entertained during their visit to the city.

The inspection building, a one and one-half storey wooden structure, where the ammunition was inspected, was badly gutted. The cause of the big fire was caused by the heating apparatus. When discovered it was burning briskly, and had gained rapid headway, as it flamed up in the roof of the building. When the firemen had mastered the outbreak the building was badly gutted. Three million rounds of ammunition were saved.

The members of the Royal 22nd Battalion, quartered here, were ordered out, and every precaution was taken to fight the fire.

When the news of the fire spread through upper town, there was considerable alarm felt, as it was generally known that there was a large quantity of high explosives in the factory.

He said that "the members have found Mr. Brownlee, a friendly and approachable person outside of the fact that he invariably refuses to go to the point of view advanced on proposed Liquor Act amendments. It was with considerable regret, therefore, that the corresponding members of the committee, in response to the attorney-general's request that they reveal who it was that had spilled the 'caucus' beans.

This temper in a report recalls a similar case some years ago when the publication of caucus proceedings of the Liberal party government on the Liquor Act caused a row in the House. The speaker then went forth to members to keep their mouths shut when talking to newspaper reporters.

London, March 16 (Reuters) — Bondholders are flocking to the picketed section of the stock exchange, where the turnover of new business and the transfer of the security to another country comes to a standstill. Between £20,000,000 and £25,000,000 daily, British securities are being bought by insurance houses, banks, politicians and other private investors, who are attracted to the market most attention to the 6 per cent war loan, which is now quoted at 97.7.5. This stock barometer of the market at the moment is the only one to show a rise. Home rails, Argentine rails and other good yielding foreign bonds.

The reason for the present activity is said to be that bondholders want to get out of the market because of the standing of British credit coupled with the fact that trade is so quiet that millions of money which is ordinarily used for

ALBERTA HAS LEAD IN MINE OPERATORS COAL PRODUCTION IN POST NEW SCALE OF WAGES FRIDAY

Western Province Mines More Than Five Million Short Tons in 1921

Ottawa, March 2.—The output of coal from Canadian mines during the 12 months ending December, 1921, amounted to 15,600,000 short tons, valued at $74,770,000, or $4.77 a ton. This quantity was 88 percent of the amount mined during the preceding year, when the total output was 17.6 million tons. In 1919 a total of 15.9 million tons of coal was raised, so that although the output in 1921 was 12 percent lower than in the preceding year, it was more than a million tons in excess of the 1919 production. The highest monthly output recorded was for November, when more than 1.5 million tons was mined; the lowest was in April, the total being half a million tons less, or 941,000 tons.

Alberta held the premier position among the coal-producing provinces with an output of 5.8 million tons. Nova Scotia followed closely with 5.7 million tons. The output of coal from the mines of British Columbia amounted to 2.8 million tons; while Saskatchewan mined 335,000 tons, and New Brunswick 130,000 tons. An analysis of the disposition of coal during the year shows that 58.2 percent was shipped; 25.1 percent went to railroads for locomotive consumption; 7.6 percent was used about the colliery for power purposes; 4.2 percent was sold for ship bunkers; 1.5 percent was put on bank; 2.6 percent was supplied to employees for domestic consumption; 0.6 percent was used in the manufacture of coke at the collieries; 0.4 percent was used in making briquettes, included in quantities referred to in the disposition was 441,820 tons, lifted from bank during the year.

MISHAPS ARE REPORTED FROM LACOMBE

Lacombe, Alta., February 23.—Cyrus Grimes, son of C. B. Grimes, farming south of Lacombe, met with most unfortunate accident on Thursday. He was out in the woods felling trees, and in some unaccountable manner, his axe missed and he got the full weight of it on his foot, inflicting a cut over three inches in depth between his toes. He was brought into the hospital in a very weak condition through loss of blood. Many weeks will elapse before he will be able to put his foot to the ground again.

Much sympathy was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steers on the death of their only child, who died on Thursday morning.

Mrs. Swain, the wife of the manager of the Pioneer Elevator company, met with a serious accident to her eyes on Wednesday. When opening a can of molasses the lid blew off, breaking her spectacles and inflicting a cut in the ball of the eye. After being attended locally, Mrs. Swain left on Thursday morning's train for Calgary to be under the care of a specialist.

At the Orange hall in the Lochlavar district on Friday, R. White of Edmonton gave a very fine lecture on the subject "Needs of the Day." Mr. White's lecture was enjoyed by the large crowd gathered. An oyster supper and dance followed.

The ladies of Spruceville district gave a dance and lunch to the district on Friday evening, over one hundred people attending.

Monday last was nomination day for the three vacancies in the No. 6 C. district. No. 393. D. Foren was appointed without any opposition.

At a meeting of the directors of the Red Deer Agricultural Society on Wednesday applications for the vacant secretaryship were read, and finally the directors and Mr. Walton came to an agreement whereby Mr. Walton undertakes the duties of secretary-treasurer for 1922 at $500; last year's salary was $600. The present deficit of $270 was due to last year's operations, and had not been carried forward previous years; the directors were to give $100 notes each to raise money to clean off the outstanding accounts.

MEMBERS BEGIN TO ARRIVE FOR HOUSE OPENING

Ottawa, March 2.—Members and senators from outside points are beginning to arrive in the city and to make their preparations for the opening of parliament, which will take place on Wednesday and Thursday. Several of the Quebec members have been in Ottawa during the past few days, choosing rooms in the house and making arrangements for their temporary homes while staying here during the session.

Monday, however, will see the beginning of the general influx of members from further outside of Ottawa. They will have to make their temporary homes here, and among those there will be the usual search for houses, apartments and other accommodation. At the parliament buildings a staff of cleaners are busy getting the rooms in order for next week.

It will pay you to take advantage of this Special Sale, even though you have to borrow the money to do it.

Tremendous Coal Strike Imminent

In fact it is an absolute certainty. On the first of next month over 10,000 coal miners will walk out, and it is anticipated by the operators that the strike will last throughout the summer at least. This will apply to all the organized mines. There will, however, be a few of the small mines continue to run, but these will be able to supply only a very small portion of the coal required, and you know what happens when the demand exceeds the supply.

UP GOES THE PRICE, SURE

And do not be surprised if the present prices double before this strike is settled. This is no random talk, but the sincere prediction of the Operators, and they ought to know.

How will this affect you? Better put in a ton or two now, and save money, as prices are sure to advance next month. Our coal is ideal for those who are particular about getting the most heat for the least cost. Our coal is all forked, and is free from dirt and rubbish that might add to its weight and impair its burning qualities.

It pays us to give good service. It will pay you to buy where you are well served.

OUR PRICES RANGE FROM $6.50 TO $11.50 FOR LUMP COAL.

Our wood stock is complete. Good, dry, seasoned, split poplar, $2.50; and fine, dry, split spruce, $3.00.

Coal News

THE biggest strike in the history of the Coal Industry of Western Canada is in sight and unquestionably will be a long drawn out affair.

We are endeavouring to protect this community against an acute shortage, in having ordered a large supply of Coal for immediate shipment. We may be unable to get all we have ordered; in any event we strongly advise everyone to stock enough coal immediately to cover their requirements this Spring.
